Literacy & Vocabulary Tips

Remember to read to your child daily, or as often as possible. Have books and writing paper all around the house, including in the kitchen and in the restroom. Encourage your child's pretend writing – let them help you with the grocery list or reading a recipe. Point out "Print" in the environment; the "STOP" sign, restaurant logos, freeway signs....etc. The more print exposure and vocabulary words you give your child, the better prepared they will be for formal school.

Health News

On reporting health or safety concerns:

Please report any concerns you have to your child's classroom teacher, any PAC member (current PAC roster posted on all Parent Boards) or to the office.

Program Eligibility Reminder

Have you changed jobs? Has your income increased or decreased? Has the number of members in your family changed; new baby.....? If your answer is yes to any of these questions, please notify the office immediately so we can see if your fee or hours of care need to be adjusted.
